MDS Pan American Section Waived Dues Countries

MDS-PAS provides a limited number of travel grants/bursaries to eligible and qualified individuals residing in MDS-PAS waived dues countries. The grant is specifically designed to assist those on a lower income to travel and attend educational activities in the region. Individuals who currently reside in countries classified as "low-income, lower-middle-income, or upper-middle-income" by the World Bank, among others, are eligible to apply (as listed below). In addition to residing in an eligible country, individuals are required to submit the travel grant application and provide sufficient evidence of financial hardship. Selections and grant amounts are awarded based on the quality of the application and financial hardship.
